

Crispus Attucks

Wedgewood/ Abolitionists

Annie Pope Turnbo

Saturday, February 28, 2009
 The Adam Clayton Powell State Office Building,
 163 West 125th Street
 1 pm (presentation starts promptly, limited seating)
 Free admission (photo I.D. required for admission to all N.Y. State buildings)

In proud recognition of African American History Month
 The Museum of African American History Presents:

THE ANCESTORS RETURN TO HARLEM

Tears and Triumphs . . . an afternoon of reflection

A three part program

PART I

TEARS—“What was it really like to be a slave?”

In answer to this traumatic question: an original spoken word performance by Elizabeth Meaders founder of The African American History Trust

PART II

TRIUMPHS—Meet some African American Heroes, missing from the history books (lecture by Elizabeth Meaders)

PART III

Audience interaction and viewing of artifacts.

*Reverend Dr. Roberts is the long time pastor of Mt. Calvary Baptist Church on 142nd Street. He is also the co-founder of the Museum of African American History, along with the Founder Dr. Wyatt Tee Walker, a “Work in Progress” that promises to be a gift to the American community.

 Elizabeth Meaders is a lecturer, curator and collector who has appeared on television, radio and in print media. She is also the recipient of numerous awards for her history endeavors and she is the founder of the The African American History Trust, an entity that supports and collaborates with African American history initiatives.