

SAVE THE DATE!

The Museum of African American History THE ANCESTORS RETURN TO HARLEM

Saturday February 28th, 2009, 1:00 PM–5:00 PM

The Adam Clayton Powell State Office Building (N.Y. State building)
163 West 125th Street (8th floor)
New York, NY 10027
TEL: 212-234-4926
www.tmaah.org

The TMAAH is sponsoring a Black History Month Celebration featuring Ms. Elizabeth Meader distinguished lecture:

Tears and Triumphs * Art exhibition *

Viewing an exceptional artifacts on heroes missing from history books—with full audience interaction*

ADMISSION IS FREE. REFRESHMENTS WILL BE SERVED.

The Museum of African American History is an organization that seeks to preserve the heritage and rich history of African people born in the United States, and those who emigrated from other countries to become a part of the historical and social fabric of this nation. The Museum of African American History will establish a state of the art museum, a place where the world will see the great contributions made by we the people of African descent.